

Home learning tasks- guide for grown ups- 21.5.20

Please DO NOT feel like you have to do all of these tasks every day. Some days you might do all of them and some days you may not do any. These are just some ideas to keep you going for when your child ready and happy to learn.

Please do post your child's work on Tapestry. We can comment on your child's work and give them feedback. It's a great way for us to interact with each other. If you have forgotten your password/ need help logging in, please contact us via email through Mrs Wooler at head@westernroad.e-sussex.sch.uk

Reading/Writing/ Phonics

Read 'Princess Smartypants' and 'Prince Cinders' with your child by Babette Cole. If you do not have a copy, then here is a versions read aloud on You Tube.

What gruesome and terrible test could you set for a prince? Eat a dinner made of spiders and slime? Battle your pet anaconda? Draw a picture of a prince trying to pass your test and write a sentence to tell us what you have drawn.

Phonics- Have a go at the attached worksheet. Ask your child to read the tricky words at the bottom of the sheet- can they now find them in the worksheet and underline them? Does that help them read the sentences?

Continue to get your child to read with you as much as possible. You can create an account on the Oxford Owl website and access lots of free ebooks. We would have been reading book bands 1,2,3 mostly at school. <https://home.oxfordowl.co.uk/books/free-ebooks/>

Understanding the world/ Expressive Art and design/ Communication and Language

Princess Smartypants doesn't like wearing dresses like other storybook princesses do. Can you design and draw the perfect outfit for her? Think about the things Princess Smartypants likes to do- motorbike riding, looking after her pets....what kind of clothes would she need to do these things? Maybe you have some dressing up clothes at home? Or some spare fabric lying around...could you even make a Princess Smartypants costume to wear and take a photo of yourself?
