

THE WRONG BATH TIME!

Historians have to be careful when they are writing books because it is easy to put things into the wrong period of history. You would be very surprised if you saw a picture of a Roman soldier going into battle carrying a machine gun! Historians call things from the wrong period of time anachronisms.

The artist who drew the picture below was very confused. He was asked to provide a picture of some Romans at the bath house, but he has included 15 anachronisms. Can you find them?
