

Computing

I hope you have enjoyed practising some coding skills with hoursofcode!

Now you are getting more confident with your tile arrangements, why not create a game of your own in scratch? You could create the rainforest game you designed in school, or think of something new.

Please also have a look here for some more exciting computing activities: <https://www.stem.org.uk/home-learning/primary#computing>