

HISTORY

We have been learning all about Florence Nightingale and how she helped others in the past.

But we have people just like her in the present (the now).

Our NHS is full of doctors, nurses, paramedics etc that all work together to help save and protect many peoples lives.

They have been working longer hours since the corona virus came.

They are putting themselves at risk to help look after others.

They are treating people with COVID 19 and trying to make them better.

They are staying away from their families to protect them.

We need to say thank you

Can you write a letter to the NHS workers thanking them for everything they are doing for our country at this time?

Can you remind them that we appreciate them and think they are doing a brilliant job?

Can you give them some encouragement to keep doing what they are doing?

Dear all doctors, nurses, hospital staff and NHS workers,

I am a pupil from St Mark's R.C. Primary School in Swinton and I am writing to you at this difficult time to spread some love and hope.

I want you to know that you should never give up and you should be proud of what you are doing. Thank you for giving up your extra time to help people in need. I appreciate all you are doing. Not only am I grateful, but the whole country is. We all just want to say a great, big THANK YOU!

In our lives, you are our superheroes and an inspiration to everyone. We wish you the best of luck and always remember that everyone will support you.

From Allana.

Dear NHS workers,

We are from St Mark's RC Primary School, Swinton, and we know you are currently struggling with the effects of the virus, but we believe in you.

Although everything seems impossible, we need to keep positive at this moment in time. You are truly our real life superheroes and you do your best to keep everyone safe from harm. We are so grateful that you give up your family time to care for us. Here is a poem we wrote for you to say thank you:

We believe in you,
So keep doing what you do,
Break down all the barriers,
Until you make it through,
This virus that stands in front of you.

Yours sincerely,
Allana and Bobby.

- There is a template in 'response section' if you wish to use it or you can create your own cards.
- Send them to me through seesaw and I will try and get them out to NHS staff.
